

Who is it?

Unity in Diversity: Superheroes in Russia and the English-Speaking World.

Who is it?

Both – very high growth.

But lived in different ages and countries. Both – help people of small stature.

Mountain-man and Lighthouse-man. Both – went to sea.

This is the doctor, and he is keeps order. Both – teach little people to be great...

Who is it?

*I want to talk about the two giants.
They are so different,
but so similar.*

They both were normal with very tall, but in different ways:

One has been above all the people. He came bending down in the house, sitting down on the floor in the cinema. He put feet on the stool, when he went to bed, and he took a double lunch in the dining room.

Another became a giant in the country hitting the little men – Lilliput. He was taller than the tallest building. He slept in the street – between the houses. And he could to eat several chickens, sheeps and cow.

First giant lived in England in the XVII century. He was born in Nottingham to the family of the landowner.

Second giant lived in Russia in the last century.

«In the house eight fraction one Near the gates Illich in our midst. Lived the citizen – it's fun,
He surnamed High Tower.»

Both giant helped people of small stature.

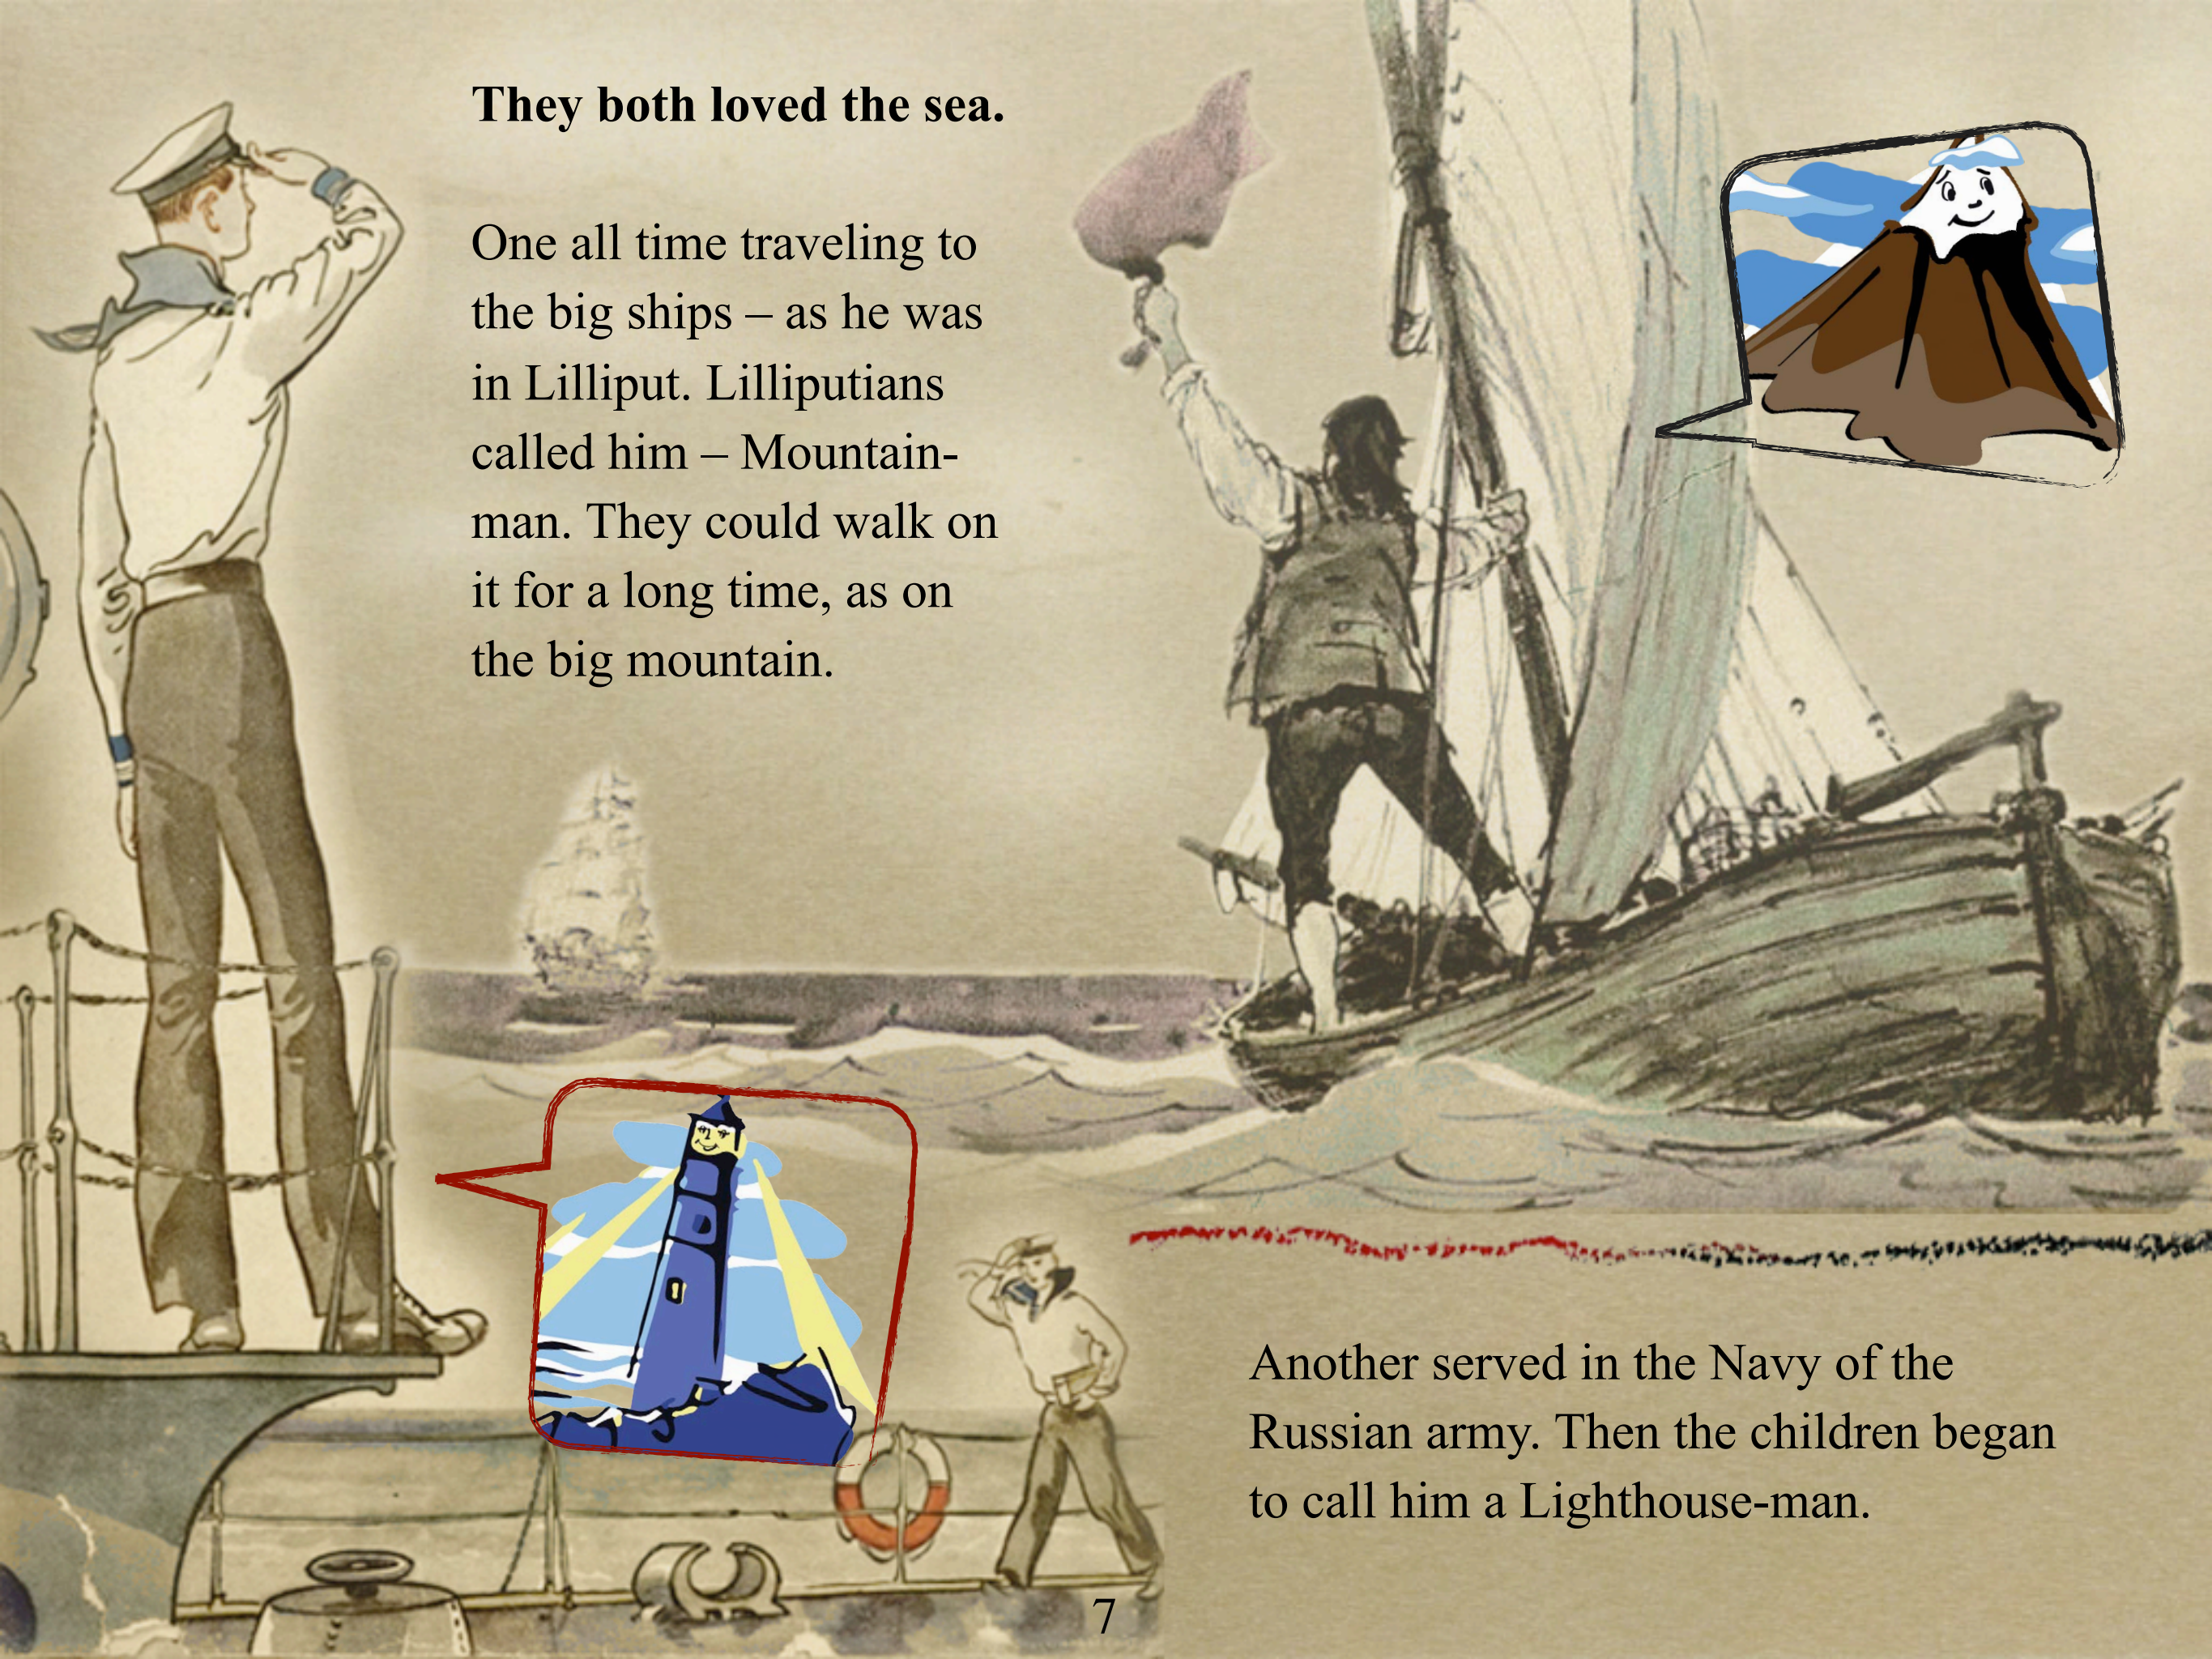

One helped Lilliputians to fight the enemies, put out fires, build houses. Once he helped them win the war with the Empire of Blefuscu.

The second helped different people, who have been growing below it: an old woman saved during the period when ice moved across different ... especially he loved to help children: rescued a drowning boy saved from fire dove cote helped lose the baby find mom ...

They both loved the sea.

One all time traveling to the big ships – as he was in Lilliput. Lilliputians called him – Mountain-man. They could walk on it for a long time, as on the big mountain.

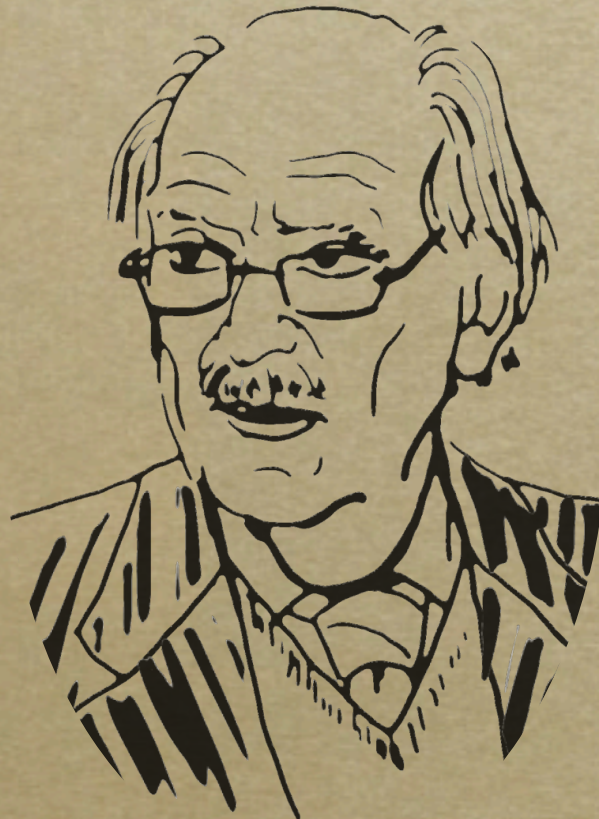

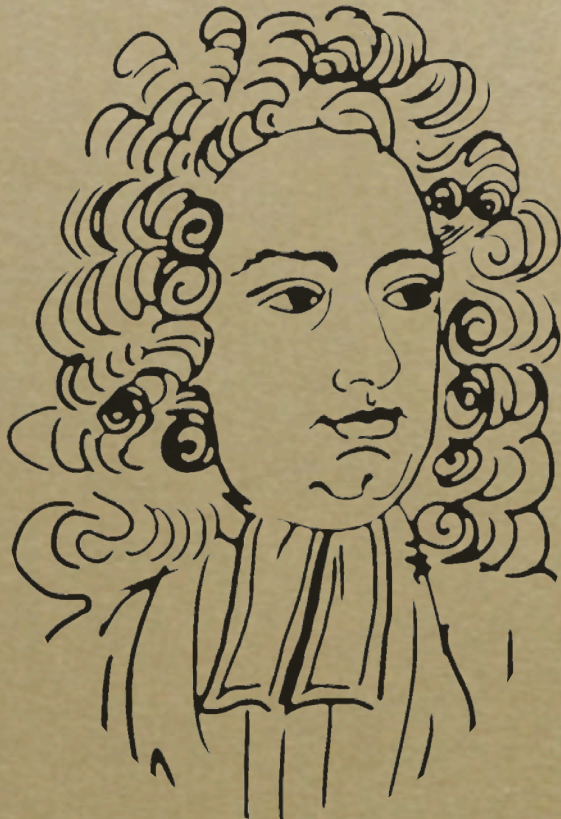

Another served in the Navy of the Russian army. Then the children began to call him a Lighthouse-man.

They had different professions. One was a doctor, and one police officer. But, they both taught small people to be higher. By his example, his actions are always shown that the giant can be a person of any height. And the low man could be any, despite the high growth.

Jonathan Swift came up one giant and wrote stories
about his adventures.
He lived in Ireland
in the XVII–XVIII centuries.

In XX century
Russian writer
Sergei Mikhalkov
wrote a funny poem about another giant.

We know that a man must be a great soul, heart and his actions, thanks to these two wonderful writers ...

... and their heroes – Dr. Lemyuel Gulliver and sergeant Stepan Stepanov.
