who lives

in the town Hell

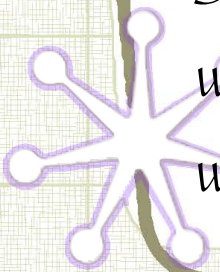

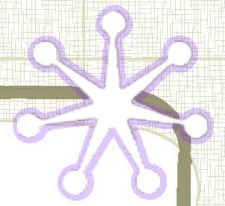

Newton Falls, New York. zip code: 13666

Newton Falls is a hamlet of 400 located within Town of Clifton in Saint Lawrence County, New York in the United States. The hamlet is located within the Adirondack Park. The area is known in part for its ZIP code, which is 13666.

The hamlet was named for James Newton, who built a sawmill in 1894 which became the Newton Falls Paper Mill; it closed in 2000. It was reopened in 2007 as Newton Falls Fine Paper through the efforts of former mill workers and town residents. The paper mill was again closed as of June 28, 2011.

History.

The hamlet was constructed as a mill town; it includes several Sears houses at the top of Plant Hill on the Newton Falls Road near Summit Avenue. In 1925 there were more than 800 residents. Until 1978 there was a huge iron strip mine, Benson Mines, and crushing plant at the junction of CR 60 and New York State Route 3 that shipped processed ore via rail; at its peak, it employed 1200 workers. The 100+ year old Newton Falls Hotel still stands, but is currently closed to the public

Name.

There are two theories for the origin of Hell's name. The first is that a pair of German travelers stepped out of a stagecoach one sunny afternoon in the 1830s, and one said to the other, "So schön hell!" (translated as, "So beautifully bright!") Their comments were overheard by some locals and the name stuck. Soon after Michigan gained statehood, George Reeves was asked what he thought the town he helped settle should be called and replied, "I don't care, you can name it Hell for all I care." The name became official on October 13, 1841. The second theory is tied to the "hell-like" conditions encountered by early explorers including mosquitos, thick forest cover and extensive wetlands.

Culture.

In the early 1930s, Pinckney, Michigan postmaster W. C. Miller began to receive requests from stamp and postmark collectors for cancellations: Hell had no post office, instead being served by the one for Pinckney, three miles away. On July 15, 1961, a postal substation was established at Hell, operating from May 1 through September 30. It remains at the back of the general store, although the United States Postal Service does not recognize Hell as a town; it instead uses the name of nearby Pinckney as the mailing address.

Dog, he is God - the character Dead Money, additions to Fallout: New Vegas, the Courier satellite scene, super mutant-shadow, Elijah prisoner suffering from a split personality.

Dog - impulsive and emotional person. He frankly silly, even stupid, as seen by his poor speech. He usually speaks in short sentences. Dane calls Elijah to as "Mister."

God describes the monster Dane (born Beast), calling him a greedy and gluttonous, but says that this is the Dog because his child's mind. Dane gladly eat almost anything, including the ghostly people. Dog cruelty behind except his resignation, he is faithful and obedient to his master who believes, for example Courier. He was miserable in their service of the Creator.

Dane hates God, whom he calls "a different voice." Most of his wounds he inflicted himself, trying unsuccessfully to suppress this "voice." Inscription «DOG» chest also brought myself Dog, to remind himself who he is.
